Geographic Areas

Area Development Districts (ADD's) – Official groupings of Kentucky counties into 15 multi-county regions for local, state, and federal planning and administration. Boundaries of the districts were set by the state legislature (KRS 147A.050) in 1972. Districts were formed from the contiguous counties on the basis of economic ties, terrain, transportation networks, ease of administration, and other factors.

Cities – Municipalities chartered or incorporated under the provisions of Kentucky laws. Kentucky cities are divided into six classes by the state constitution, on the basis on population. Each class of city has minimum levels of government services set by state statutes. Since classifications are assigned to individual cities by state statutes, some cities may be assigned to the wrong class until they are reclassified by legislative action.

Class of City	Population
First	100,000 or more
Second	20,000 to 99,999
Third	8,000 to 19,999
Fourth	3,000 to 7,999
Fifth	1,000 to 2,000
Sixth	Less than 1,000

For a current list of incorporated cities by class, contact the Kentucky Secretary of State's Office or search the Kentucky Cities Database on the web at <http://apps.sos.ky.gov/land/cities/>.

County – The basic level of local government for all areas in Kentucky. The powers of the Commonwealth's 120 counties also encompass the territories of cities located within their borders.

Metropolitan Statistical Areas – A geographic entity designated by the federal Office of Management and Budget (OMB), based upon officially published standards, for statistical use. A metropolitan statistical area (MSA) is a metropolitan area (MA) that is not closely associated with another MA. An MSA consists of one or more counties, except in New England, where MSAs are defined in terms of county subdivisions (primarily cities and towns).

Metropolitan Statistical Areas, Micropolitan Statistical Areas, and Combined Statistical Areas

POPULATION

Decennial Census and Population Estimates - The principal source for population data is the U.S. Census Bureau. The decennial census has been releasing individual and household counts and descriptions for the United States since 1790. This site provides census data at the state, county, city, area development districts (ADD) and metropolitan statistical area (MSA) levels. More detailed information is also available from the U.S. Census Bureau (www.census.gov). Detailed data from the Census Bureau is available for a wide range of topics, including age, race, education, income, language, household characteristics, housing units, and employment.

In addition to the decennial census, the Census Bureau releases population estimates and projections. Estimates are released for the nation, states, counties, minor civil divisions, incorporated places, and consolidated cities. Population estimates start with decennial census data as benchmarks and add population components of change, including births, deaths, internal migration, and international migration. Estimates for states and smaller areas are based on data series such as births and deaths, as an example. State and county population estimates are published annually. City estimates are released in odd numbered years. County population estimates are also used to provide estimates for metropolitan statistical areas.

Population Projections – The Kentucky State Data Center (KSDC), University of Louisville, releases population forecasts for Kentucky, its area development districts and counties. In addition to the county projections appearing at this site, more detailed data may be obtained from KSDC. Projections through 2030 by gender, single year of age through 85 and older, and racial categories are available. Household projections are released every ten years. You may contact the Kentucky State Data Center at (502) 852-7990. Their web site is (<http://ksdc.louisville.edu/>).

Urban and Rural – The U.S. Census Bureau defines the urban population as all persons living in (1) places of 2,500 or more inhabitants incorporated as cities and towns, (2) census designated places of 2,500 or more persons and (3) any other territory included in an urbanized area. An urbanized area comprises one or more places and the adjacent densely settled surrounding area that together has a minimum population of 50,000. The population not classified as urban constitutes the rural population.

Population by Race - Racial statistics are available from the U.S. Census Bureau from the decennial census and census estimates. The basic racial categories, as provided by the U.S. Office of Management and Budget, are American Indian or Alaska Native, Asian or Pacific Islander, Black or African American, and White. Persons of Hispanic origin may be of any race. The concept of race the Bureau of the Census uses reflects self-identification by respondents. Detailed racial population statistics are available from the 2000 census.

Migration – Net migration as reported by the U.S. Bureau of the Census and cooperating state population centers, is the residual of migration both into and out of an area during a specified period. It is derived by subtracting the natural increase (births, minus deaths) during the period from the change in the total population numbers during the same period.

INCOME AND POVERTY

Gross Domestic Product by State – The Gross Domestic Product (GDP) is the most widely used measure of the nation's production. It is the market value of goods and services produced over a given period of time. The Gross Domestic Product by State estimates, released biennially by the U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA), are the states' counterpart to the estimates of the Gross Domestic Product. An industry's GDP by State is equivalent to its gross output (sales or receipts and other operating income, commodity taxes, and inventory change) minus its intermediate inputs (consumption of goods and services purchased from other industries). GDP by State estimates are prepared in current dollars and in chained (1996) dollars. The chain-type annual-weighted indexes allow for the effects of changes in relative prices and in the composition of output over time. The GDP by State is published in the Survey of Current Business and is available on the BEA's GDP by State web site at: <http://www.bea.gov/bea/regional/gsp.htm>.

Personal Income – Income received by persons (individuals, owners of non-incorporated businesses, non-profit institutions, private trust funds, and private non-insured welfare funds). Income is estimated by place of work (including wages, salary and proprietors income paid) and by place of residence (total income of all persons residing in an area, including dividends, rents, and transfer payments). Per capita income is derived by dividing the total income for a particular group by the total population. The U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis releases personal income for counties, states, regions, and the U.S. in the Survey of Current Business. BEA's personal income data is also available on the Regional Economic Information System (REIS) web site at: <http://www.bea.gov/bea/regional/data.htm>.

Money Income – Money income statistics are based on data collected by the U.S. Census Bureau and differ from the personal income data released by the U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis. "Money income" covers money income received (exclusive of certain money receipts such as capital gains) before taxes, social security, union dues, and medicare deductions. Money income does not reflect that some families receive part of their income in noncash benefits. "Money income" includes income from private pensions and annuities and interpersonal transfers, such as child support which is income excluded from "personal income". Median household income is published biennially for states and counties, and is available at the census web site:
<http://www.census.gov/hhes/www/saipe/index.html>.

Poverty Level – Poverty level is defined as the minimum level of money income adequate for families of different sizes, in keeping with American consumption patterns. These levels are determined by comparing individual or family income with annual income thresholds adjusted annually by the U.S. government on the basis of an index originated by the U.S. Social Security Administration (see census web site:

www.census.gov/hhes/poverty/threshld.html. Poverty data are released biennially by the U.S. Census Bureau for states and counties. The poverty rate is the percent of individuals or households with incomes below the poverty income thresholds.

The poverty thresholds are updated each year by the U.S. Census Bureau. The thresholds are used mainly for statistical purposes. All official poverty population figures are calculated using the poverty thresholds

The poverty guidelines are issued each year in the Federal Register by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). The guidelines are a simplification of the poverty thresholds for use for administrative purposes – for example, determining financial eligibility for certain federal programs. Programs using the guidelines (or percentage multiples of the guidelines) in determining eligibility include Head Start, the Food Stamp Program, the National School Lunch Program and the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program.

Consumer Price Index – A measure of change, overtime, in the prices paid at retail by U.S. consumers for a fixed market basket of goods and services. The index is a number expressed in relation to a base period that has been assigned a value of 100. The most commonly used index is the U.S. City Average for all urban consumers (CPI-U), which covers about 80 percent of all noninstitutional civilian population. A consumer price index (CPI) comparable to the U.S. consumer price index is not available for Kentucky or its communities. The consumer price index is released monthly by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) at:
<http://www.bls.gov/cpi/home.htm#data>.

EMPLOYMENT & WAGES

The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), at <http://www.bls.gov> in cooperation with each state's department of employment security, provides data for employment and wages. In Kentucky, the Kentucky Department for Employment Services, Research and Statistics Branch – phone: 502-564-7976, web site: <http://www.workforcekentucky.ky.gov> – is the primary data source for employment and wages.

Most employment and wage data are obtained from:

- (1) The Current Population Survey (CPS) – A monthly sample survey of the population. The CPS is used to gather data for the calendar week including the 12th of the month and provides comprehensive labor force data. The CPS provides information on the work status of the population without duplication by classifying each person as employed, unemployed, or not in the labor force.
- (2) The Current Employment Statistics Program (CES) – Survey data gathered monthly through a sample of employers. The CES is designed to provide detailed national, state, and metropolitan statistical area data on nonfarm wage and salary employment, average weekly hours, and average hourly and weekly earnings.
- (3) The ES-202 Report – A quarterly, establishment based compilation of data by industry and county of employment, wages and contributions developed data from reports submitted by employers subject to state unemployment insurance law. Reports released by the ES-202 unit of the Kentucky Department of Employment Services, Employment and Wages Section include quarterly and annual reports: Average Covered Monthly Workers in Manufacturing by Industry Division and County; Average Covered Monthly Employment by Industrial Division and County; Total Wages by Industrial Division and County.

Labor Force Estimates: The civilian labor force includes employed and unemployed persons 16 years and older, excluding armed forces personnel and persons in penal and mental institutions, sanitariums and homes for the aged and infirmed. Labor force estimates are residence based (labor force status of county residents). Persons "not in the labor force" are those not classified as employed or unemployed and include persons retired, those engaged in their own housework, attending school, not employed due to illness, voluntarily idle, or discouraged from seeking work due to personal or job market factors. Employed persons include those counted during the survey week who worked for pay or profit or worked 15 or more hours unpaid in family enterprises and those who had jobs but were temporarily absent for non-economic reasons. Unemployed persons include those persons not working but had attempted to find work within the past four weeks and were still available for work, or were laid off or reporting to a new job within 30 days.

The Local Area Unemployment Statistics Unit (LAUS) of the Kentucky Department for Employment Services develops monthly and annual estimates of civilian labor force, employment, unemployment and unemployment rates. In addition to Kentucky state and county data, estimates are available for service delivery areas, area development districts, employment service local offices, congressional districts and metropolitan statistical areas. The data are based on the Current Population Survey, administrative data from the Unemployment Insurance System and employment estimates from the Current Employment Statistics and ES-202 programs. Labor force statistics are revised annually. Kentucky state and county monthly and annual average civilian labor force data are available on the Kentucky Department for Employment Service's web site listed under labor market information.

Other civilian labor force data presented in the Deskbook of Economic Statistics is taken from data published by Applied Geographic Solutions, Simi Valley, California.

Additional community information, on a county basis for Kentucky, is available from the Kentucky Cabinet for Economic Development's award-winning EDIS (Economic Development Information System) website at: <http://www.ced.ky.gov/EDIS/cmnty/cmntyindex.aspx?param=1>.

INDUSTRY SECTORS

This section presents business data including the number, type, size, and sales of businesses. Sources for the data presented in this section include County Business Patterns and other reports published by the U.S. Census Bureau, with additional data from state agencies. Much of the data in this section is being published on the basis of the North American Industrial Classification System (NAICS) for the first time. Earlier editions were published under the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) system. For information on NAICS and changes from the SIC system, go to: www.census.gov/epcd/www/naics.html.

Data in this section may be listed for business firms or business establishments. A firm is generally defined as a business organization under single management and may include one or more establishments, while an establishment is a single physical location at which business is conducted.

County Business Patterns – This annual series provides county level industry data based on the North American Industrial Classification System (NAICS). County Business Patterns data prior to 1998 were published according to the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) system. The series excludes data on self-employment, employees of private households, railroad employees, agricultural production employees, and most government employees. For more information on County Business Patterns, go to: www.census.gov/epcd/cbp/view/cbpview.html.

Annual Survey of Manufactures – The Annual Survey of Manufactures reports data for the years not covered by the Census of Manufactures. Data are estimates based on a selected sample of establishments listed in the Census of Manufactures. Data includes value of shipments and value added by manufacture. Value added by manufacture is considered to be the best measure available for comparing the relative economic importance of manufacturing among industries and geographic areas. It is derived by subtracting the cost of materials, supplies, containers, fuel, purchased electricity, and contract work from the value of shipments for products manufactured plus receipts for services rendered. The result of this calculation is then adjusted by the addition of value added by merchandising operations plus the net change in finished goods and work-in-process inventories between the beginning and end of the year.

The Kentucky Revenue Cabinet provides the data for a table entitled “Median Sale Price of Homes for Kentucky Counties”. Note the data is released in six-month increments.

ECONOMIC CENSUS SUMMARIES

This section presents summaries of Economic Census reports. The U.S. Census Bureau publishes the Economic Census reports every five years. The latest data available is for 2002. The 1997 reports were the first time the Economic Census published data on the basis of the North American Industrial Classification System (NAICS). Earlier editions were published under the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) system. For information on NAICS and changes from the SIC system, go to: www.census.gov/epcd/www/naics.html.

Economic Census reports are available from the U.S. Census Bureau on the following NAICS sectors: Mining, Utilities, Construction, Manufacturing, Wholesale Trade, Retail Trade, Transportation and Warehousing, Information, Finance and Insurance, Real Estate and Rental and Leasing, Professional, Scientific, and Technical Services, Management of Companies and Enterprises, Administrative and Support and Waste Management and Remediation Services, Educational Services, Health Care and Social Assistance, Arts, Entertainment, and Recreation, Accommodations and Food Services, and Other Services (Except Public Administration). The data in these reports are available for establishments at the national, state, county, city, and metropolitan statistical area levels. However, for some of the sectors, data is not available at the county or city level.

The Other Services (Except Public Administration) sector of the 2002 Economic Census includes establishment and payroll data for those services not specifically provided for elsewhere in the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS). Establishments in this category are primarily engaged in activities such as repair and maintenance of equipment and machinery, personal and laundry services, and religious, grantmaking, civic, professional, and similar organizations. Establishments providing death care services, pet care services, photofinishing services, temporary parking services and dating services are also included.

Data in this section may be listed for business firms or business establishments. A firm is generally defined as a business organization under single management and may include one or more establishments, while an establishment is a single physical location at which business is conducted.

This section of the Deskbook provides summaries of most sectors by industry and by county (if data is available) for Kentucky. The summaries are available in '.pdf' and '.xls' format. For the excel spreadsheets, if the data is available at the county level, there will be two worksheets in the file with the data at the county level labeled "county" and data by industry labeled "industry." After you have opened the spreadsheet, to view the data at the county level, click on the "county" tab at the bottom of the page, and if you want to view the data broken down by industry at the state level click on the "industry" tab.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE & FOREIGN INVESTMENT

This section includes export statistics released by the World Institute for Strategic Economic Research (WISER) located at Holyoke Community College and is a part of the College's Kittredge Business and Technology Center – phone: (413) 552-2178, website: www.wisertrade.org.

In 1988 MISER was chosen by the US Census Bureau to be one of its first Business and Industry Data Centers with special focus on foreign trade statistics. MISER developed an imputation algorithm to improve newly available Census state export data by SIC industry and also produced online software to make the data more easily accessible. Over the next 16 years MISER became the leading provider of US and state level trade statistics. WISER was formed July 1, 2004 to continue the international trade data work of its predecessor, MISER, which closed its doors at the University of Massachusetts on June 30th. Since then WISER has continued to provide the same high quality trade statistics, data expertise, and technical support that MISER provided for so many years.

For information regarding export/import activity for individual Kentucky manufacturing firms refer to the Kentucky International Trade Directory published by the Kentucky Cabinet for Economic Development.

Foreign direct investment data are published by the U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis in the May issue of Survey of Current Business and are available on the web at www.bea.doc.gov. An U.S. affiliate of a foreign company is an U.S. business enterprise in which one foreign owner (individual, branch, partnership, association, trust corporation, or government) has a direct or indirect voting interest of 10 percent or more.

EDUCATION

The U.S. Census Bureau provides educational attainment data for states and the U.S. on an annual basis in the P-20 Series reports. These data are based on the Current Population Survey. County level attainment data are available from the latest decennial census.

The Kentucky Department of Education – phone: 502-564-3421, website for statistical data: http://kdemaxport3.kde.state.ky.us:7777/pls/portal/portal\_code.pkg\_max.main?p\_act=portal\_code.pkg\_max.sp\_home\_page – collects information on graduating high school students each year, including the number and percentage of students continuing their education, entering the workforce, and entering the military. The Kentucky Department of Education also collects enrollment and expenditure data for school districts. Kentucky college enrollment data are available from the Kentucky Council on Postsecondary Education – phone: 502-573-1555, website: www.cpe.state.ky.us/facts/index\_facts.asp.

CRIME

The Kentucky State Police summarize statewide crime statistics in their publication entitled Crime in Kentucky, which is an annual report listing offenses and arrests by county and agency. It should be noted that when comparing crime data between years that increases or decreases in the number of crimes reported can be attributed to a variety of factors, including methods of reporting and tabulating on the part of law enforcement agencies. Crime in Kentucky is available from the Kentucky State Police web site at:

<http://www.kentuckystatepolice.org/data.htm>

State crime statistics are published in the FBI annual report Crime in the United States (CIUS), published on the internet at: <http://www.fbi.gov/ucr/ucr.htm>

The crime index or rate, is used nationally and is derived from the following formula:

Population divided by 100,000 = X

Number of offenses divided by X = crime rate
